概要	Advance professiona	d English I involves the preparation al and business contexts.	ion and confident delivery of English presentations designed for a	There will be several short assignments and activities from the textbook to prepare students for their initial and final presentations.
	For Akashi Kosen students, the class will meet in the Global Terrace, but they may be asked to do group work with students from other NIT campuses in TEAMs channels assigned to them during class time.
	Students from other NIT campuses, who have been accepted into this class, may join each class via TEAMs.
w e p A	The final project of this course is an (in class) online "Professional and Business English Presentation Contest," where the students will present their work orally in front of peers and teachers. In addition to the 20 students enrolled in class, up to five additional individuals and/or teams of 2 or 3 students might be accepted for participation in the online contest through a vetting process. All participants will receive a "Certificate of Achievement" unless they are among the top ranked contestants, in which case they will receive a "Certificate of Excellence" with their ranking indicated.
Ę	 評価の対象としない欠席条件(割合) 1/4以上の欠課。
	Students must critique each other's work and self-reflect on each of their practice presentation performances.
F St 注意点	Final contest eligibility for those who are not enrolled in the class will be extended to all interested NIT students regardless of their nationality, native language, or academic year.
S	Students must not recycle their presentation content from or into any other presentations for other class assignments or contests such as COCET's English Presentation Contest.
Se	Whether the students participate in person or through a live camera projection, the teacher must be able see ALL of the participants engaged in relevant class time behavior throughout the duration of each class Otherwise, the teacher reserves the right to mark the student absent. Students joining via TEAMs must I their cameras on.
