Assigned Department Objectives
Teaching Method
Outline	General or Specialized : General Field of learning : Japanese language Foundational academic disciplines : Humanities/Literature, linguistics Relationship with Educational Objectives : This class is equivalent to "(5) Attain a global perspective and understanding of social development." "(7) Develop communication and presentation abilities." Relationship with JABEE programs : The main goals of learning / education in this class are "(F), also "(B)" is involved. Course outline : This is a Japanese composition class for first-year international students. Students will develop their ability to write sentences in Japanese, and in the future they will work on assignments with gradually increasing difficulty in order to be able to write theoretical Japanese sentences for reports and foreground crossing exercises. They will also learn about kanji and idiomatic expressions that they need to understand in their daily lives and in class, and will practice to be able to write well-organized sentences using them.
Style	Course method : In the first semester, they will use the textbook to write Japanese essays. In the second semester, they will begin to develop their Japanese writing skills by researching and understanding the topics the teacher has prepared for them, and practicing how to write their own thoughts in writing. The students will continue to practice writing during class time and supplementary classes in order to produce well-formed characters that are easy for the reader to read. Grade evaluation method : The results of the first and second semester exams (70%), assignments (20%), and attendance (10%) will determine the overall evaluation. A score of 60 or more is considered a passing grade, and the student will be required to retake the exam if necessary.
Notice	Precautions on the enrollment : Students must take this class (no more than one-third of the required number of class hours missed) in order to complete the 1st year course. Course advice : Students should study up to Lesson 30 of "Minna no Nihongo Shokyu II (2nd Edition) " in advance and understand the contents of the study. There is a lot to learn, so students should prepare and review every day. We also want students to have an interest in the Japanese language and culture. Related subjects : Japanese language I (1st year), Japanese conversation and listening I (1st year), Japanese and Japanese culture (1st year), Japanese language II (2nd year), Japanese conversation and listening II (2nd year), Japanese language III (3rd year) Attendance advice : If students are late for the start of class, they will be counted as tardy for up to 20 minutes. After that, the student will be marked absent. Actively participate in class and submit assignments on time. Try to look up vocabulary you don't understand. Textbooks and course content may be changed depending on the status of students.
